A Premier Speech on the Pacific Railroad Question.

Among the many of speeches struck off during the session of Congress, the most practical and sensible was that from the Representative of the Old Bay State, Hon. Eli Thayer, which we print in the Tribune of this morning. It is a tremendous blow at the Buchanan and peculiarly Southern policy of the Administration, and particular attention to the speech in behalf of the African race; as also Mr. Thayer's denunciation of the Supreme Court for setting that the negro has no rights worth bringing to market and the power of unsettling in prayer, in the Southern Church, in the eternal interests of Caffre souls.

The Democratic State Convention.

A full report of the doings of the Democratic State Convention will be found in this morning's issue. The Democratic Convention assembled. It was composed of Democrats, and it denominated itself. It says that it is anxious for the success of the party upon Republican principles. The split began in Washington, and has since been the entering wedge, &c. It seems to say that it is endeavoring to conciliate the Republicans, to feel that the Democracy, and to be for or of the hour, who is trying to save the whole party, lost his own soul. The whole is very bitter and defiant, and closes in a blood-thirsty breathing with the party of Gunnes, Lecompton and Hayne—pretty good company it wears any judge, and better, we believe, than Douglas deserves.

[Special Correspondence of Chicago Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, APRIL 19, 1858.

It was determined about the first of this month, by the President, to make the following changes in Illinois: H. S. Fitch, District Attorney, in place of A. M. Herriott; John Wentworth, Marshal, in place of Mr. Davidson; D. F. Strother, Collector, in place of Gen. Fry.

I endeavored to inform you of these contemplated removals and appointments more than a week ago, but perceive that my letter was miscarried, together with another one describing the death of Col. Benton. The nominations have been lying in the Attorney General's office since the opening of the month, and were probably determined in Executive session on the 14th, though of this I have no positive information. Mr. Fitch is a son of Dr. Fitch, ex-Indian Senator from Indiana. It is supposed that the Doctor will be turned out early in May, when the evidence upon which his nomination here proceeded to rely, will have arrived from Indiana. The leaving of Mr. Fitch in office will be a little token of his determination to be consistent, when he, the Doctor, shall be here no more to be so. The change of Mr. Herriott, in speaking well of Gardner. He is the only man having the confidence of both factions, and is the wisest of the lot. The removal of Mr. Fry is the severest blow the Administration has received in Illinois, and the sura of controversy. Mr. Fry is a man of ability, and has been a leader in Illinois politics for many years. He is a man of the people, and has the confidence of the people. He is a man of the people, and has the confidence of the people. He is a man of the people, and has the confidence of the people.

Great Republican Rumpus.

The Chicago Press assumes that we are "overwhelmed with defeat" in Illinois, because we have not published the returns of the election in the back of a column of the Storyfield Courier. Now, we only publish the returns of elections in which we are interested, or which are interesting to the public. The Democratic Standard, of Ottawa, publishes the returns of the Legislature, because it is the official paper of the county, and the Democratic Courier, of Galena, because it is the official paper of the city of Galena. We have not published the returns of the election in Illinois, because we are not only individually responsible for the result, but because we do not consider them interesting to the public. The Democratic Standard, of Ottawa, publishes the returns of the election of Congressmen, because it is the official paper of the county, and because the Democratic party is responsible for the election of Congressmen. The Democratic Courier, of Galena, publishes the returns of the election of Congressmen, because it is the official paper of the city of Galena, and because the Democratic party is responsible for the election of Congressmen
